Preface

All manuals on genealogical research methods advise the researcher to determine first if any information on your family has been published or researched in order to avoid duplication of effort. Though no Peet genealogy has been published, there have been at least four individuals who have pioneered Peet family research in this century. Foremost of these is the late Robert Augustine Peet of Hinsdale, Ill. (d 1948) who successfully undertook a major construction of Peet lines down through the ninth and tenth generations in America. His work was continued by his daughter, Carolyn Peet Conover of Jensen Beach, Florida (d 1983), whose papers, along with those of her father, were left to me. Lester Card put together a short compilation of Peet descendants which fell short of Robert Peet's efforts, but largely expanded that which was published in Orcutt's History of the Old Town of Stratford, Connecticut (1886). Georgiana Peet Miller has spent more than forty years digging her populous branch of the Peet family and is responsible for the more than 1,400 entries presented in the chapter for the descendants of John Peet through Charles Peet of New Milford, Ct.

Known to all the above, but not to me personnally, was one William E. Peet, retired U.S. Post Office employee, of San Francisco, California, who actively collected Peet family data for more than three decades, but whose whereabouts were lost around 1970. He never published his information and with the exception of his index the disposition of his research and materials is lamentably unknown.

The papers and correspondence inherited upon Carol Conovers's passing were in a state of total chaos. The data contained in several cardboard cartons, once arranged with the help of a word processor, contained startling new lines of descent and scores of leads. Coupled with Orcutt's History..., Lester Card's outline, and Robert's 25' x 6' chart, the basic structure of this work was formed.

This work has been supplemented by reference to all published primary sources (birth, death, marriage, military, census, pension records) and secondary sources such as published genealogies and local histories.

Comparatively little information obtained from direct contact with living Peets is contained herein - hence the poor representation of the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th generations. The compilation therefore fulfills only the first command of genealogical research. My function thus far has been as organizer and indexer to a welter of loose unordered information collected by others in published or unpublished form. Not wishing to suppress this organized body of information until a more complete and accurate compilation can be published, a limited number of copies has been produced and placed in U.S. libraries with major genealogical collections in the hope that anyone consulting this work may come forward with additional information or corrections.

Approximately 80% of those surnamed Peet/Peat in this country are descendants of John Peet of Stratford; with very few exceptions virtually all those so surnamed in this country before 1800 are. Immigration (Appendix H) of new Peets is recorded as early as the 1830's and later in the 1860's with William Peet of Chaffries, England who settled in Missouri and established a soap manufacturing firm which latter merged with several others, eventually becoming the Palmolive, Colgate and Peet Co. Descendants of this William Peet were affectionately labelled the "soap Peets" by Carol Conover. Whether all Peets can trace their lines to a common forebearer before John Peet of Stratford will have to await exhaustive, painstaking and costly research in the United Kingdom.

"Tell your children of it and let your children tell their children and their children another generation."
Joel 1:3

1 John Peet bc 1597 Duffield Parish , Derbyshire, England; d September 1, 1684 Stratford, Ct.; m ? before 1638. The descendants of this one man and his wife, who remains unknown, probably constitute the large majority of Peets living in this country.

John Peet was a husbandman at the time of his embarkation for America on the ship, Hopewell, in 1635. His age given in the ship's register was 38. The Hopewell, mastered by Captain Bundock, sailed from England April 3, 1635 and reached Boston in June that year. From manuscripts preserved in State Papers Department of His Majesties Public Record Office, England, April 3, 1635 the "...underwritten names are to be transported to New England embarqued in ye Hopewell M. Wm. Bundick, the pties have brought certificates from the Minister and Justice of the Peace, that they are no subsedy men. They have taken the oath of allegeance and supremacie". And then follows, "Jo. Peat, husbandman of Duffill parish in Derbieshire- 38 years." Nothing is known of John Peet until his removal to Stratford, Ct. in 1639 via Wethersfield, Ct. with the first group of founders and pioneer settlers in a series of new settlements in the Connecticut River Valley and the southwestern part of the state. At least seventeen families (Orcutt) and more probably twenty-five families (Wilcoxson) constituted the first group of settlers in Stratford in the spring of 1639.

It is also not known whether John Peet was already married at the time of his arrival in America or whether he married during the 1635-38 period. John evidently brought no family as the English port records show all the members of the other passengers. There is record in England of a permit granted to Marie Peake, aged 15, to sail in the Hopewell. The name does not show again. On the passenger list she is included with other young people and not with John. It has been suggested that at that time, to relieve the pressure of the tenement house districts in London's east end, which were swarming with homeless waifs, orphans and foundlings, children of 14 and older were bound out as servants and transported to the new world. In any case John Peet's wife in America bore him two sons, John Jr. (1638) and Benjamin (1640). If Mary were not a daughter, it is quite conceivable she could have been the mother of John Peet's two sons-- yet John Peet was old enough to have married in England, had a daughter 15 years old in 1635 and to have remarried in America.

A search, commissioned by Edwin F. Peet of Stuart, Florida, through a transcript of the marriage register of Duffield and Belper parishes (the registers are in custody of the parishes) at the Derbyshire Record Office shows a marriage of February 16, 1622 between John Peate and Margaret Allecock of Heage. The only other marriage of record between 1598 and 1635 with a Peet is that of Robert Kiddiar of Shottle to Ann Peate of Hazelwood. The same records also show the following baptisms, marriages and burials of those with variant orthographies of the Peet name:

Ursula, dau of Richard Peyte of Hazlewood bp 25th April 1599
William Petye and Edith Johnson m 19th Feb 1600/01

Some sources (Orcutt) erroneously name Sarah Osborn, daughter of Richard as John Peet's wife, but it is well established that Sarah Osborn was the wife of John Peet, Jr. Jacobus postulates that John Sr.'s wife was a daughter of John Charles of Branford. When the estate of John Charles was distributed in 1673 a share went to a John Peet for the children he had by his deceased wife, daughter of John Charles. His will reads "2. Unto John Peate who married another of ye sd Jn Charles his daughters also deceased 3 lbs, 10 S". Although it is uncertain as to which John Peet this was, there being no others in Stratford, except John Jr. seems to identify the daughter of John Charles as John Peet's wife. An inventory of an Anne Peacke was taken April 29, 1687 by John Green and Joseph Lockwood. Allowing for spelling variations that obtained in those days, could Anne Peacke have been the daughter of John Charles?

The original settlement of Stratford, incorporated in 1639, is on the site bound by present day Stratford Avenue on the north, homelots on the west side of Main Street on the west, Birdseye Street to the south, and the Houseatonic River (then called the Pootatuck River) to the east. Homelots were undoubtedly assigned to the first settlers shortly after arrival yet no record prior to 1650 exists. Based upon available records, W.H. Wilcoxson reconstructed a map of old Stratford showing the homelots as owned during the 1639-1660 period.

John Peet's homelot, designated by number seven on Wilcoxson's reconstructed map, today is bound on the north by Stratford Avenue, on the west by Elm Street and on the east by the salt pond called Selby's Pond and Terry Bridge Creek emanating from the pond. During a September 1979 visit to the ancestral home site I was astounded to discover the south portion of the homelot to be occupied by part of the parking lot to the Stratford Shakespeare Theatre, which now occupies the old home site of John Brinsmade. I had visited this theatre in the mid-sixties and never realized how close I had stood to the family's ancestral beginnings in the new world. The Peet home site now incorporates several 150-200 year old homes, in partial disrepair, along Stratford Avenue and one facing Elm Street.

Presumably John Peet labored as a farmer. He is known, however, to have been the first sexton and bell ringer at the Congregational Church at Stratford, gathered first in 1639. Here at this church he performed his weekly task of ringing the bell until 1660 when the First Congregational Church voted "that Goodman Pickett shall take the place of Goodman Peake for age hath layd downe in ringing the bell". The bell was the first in the colony of Connecticut and must have been imported from England. John Peet's duties, undoubtedly the same as his successors, were carefully described as to "...ring the bell twice on a lecture day and also to watch over the disordered persons in the meeting and use his discretion in striking any person whome he finds so disordering. He is also to keep ye meeting house and sweepe it so often as it needs" and "they do allow unto him 2d. 10s. to be payd yarely." (Stratford Town Records, Volume I, page 18).

In 1668 John Sr. gave his homelot to John Jr. and divided his other lands between his two sons, John and Benjamin. John Sr. died September 1, 1684 in his 87th year.

(he bc 1638-40); Benjamin probably continued in his father's profession as a farmer; Benjamin was elected to serve in the office of pounder along with Joseph Beardsley--pounders were appointed for different parts of the town and seized upon stray animals that wandered up and down the highways or stole into forbidden meadows (Stratford Town Records, Vol. I, p 425); Benjamin Peet was one of 45 who petitioned the General Court at Hartford, May 14, 1669 regarding the differences that were disturbing the Church of Christ at Stratford praying the Court "to hear and take our matters into your Juditious Consideration, and doe something for our Settlement." On May 5, 1679 Benjamin was one of the five selectmen of Stratford who certified to be persons and estates of several citizens as being qualified to be freemen; on May 15, 1674 Richard Butler gave to his son-in-law the northern half of his home (1½ acres) for which Benjamin agreed in return to pay Richard Butler 20 S a year during the latter's lifetime; on February 9, 1702 Benjamin again subdivided the lot, giving to his son, Samuel, the northern half of it (3/4 acres) including Moses Wheeler's original dwelling house; on October 8, 1685 Benjamin with four others presented a petition to the General Court at Hartford relating to divisions of land in Stratford; the will of Benjamin Peet is as follows:

"In the name of God, Amen. I Benjamin Peat, Senior of Stratford in the county of Fairfield and Colony of Connecticut being weak in body but of competent understanding and memory blessed be God do make this my last will and testament viz: I give my soule unto the arms of my blessed Saviour Redeemer and my body to be decently interred in the earth at the discretion of my Executor hereafter named and confessing those worldly goods the Lord hath made me possessor of having formerly given to my

13 Samuel Peet, Jr. (Benjamin, John) b March 15, 1670/1, Stratford, Ct.; d April 12, 1748, Stratford; called Jr. to distinguish him from his cousin; m by 1698 Abigail Harvey, dau of Dr. Josiah Harvey and Mary (Staples) Harvey (she b January 8, 1671/2); lived with his daughter and son-in-law; Samual occupied the lot his father gave to him; there apparently was dissension among members of the family about a well on the property; finally in May 1725 his mother, Phebe, "to prevent future trouble" gave him a deed to ratify and confirm his father's gift; on March 17, 1726 Samuel "for love and good will to my son-in-law Samuel Deforest and Abigail his wife" gave them half of his already small lot. Samuel Deforest wished to reassemble the different plots which were originally included in the three acres acquired by Richard Butler; in 1728 he bought for 30 pounds the other half of Benjamin Peet's lot from his widow, Phebe, and in 1732 purchased for 95 pounds the remaining 1½ acre which had gone to Richard Butler's eldest daughter; by these transactions Moses Wheeler's "home lot" was once more intact as it had left his hands. On February 4, 1734 he and his father-in-law, Samuel Peet sold for 240 pounds their 1½ acre house lot with dwelling, barn and well--the old Benjamin Peet homestead on which Samuel and Abigail Deforest had spent the first nine years of their marriage.

44a Samuel Peet, "the Hermit" (David, John, John, John) b April 1, 1720, Stratford, Ct.; d March 9, 1789, New Milford, Ct.; bur in Peet Burying ground, New Milford; m 1744 Sarah Wildman (she b 1724; d March 16, 1801, New Milford); purchased first land in New Milford in 1741 and located there about 1746/7 on lot No. 12 in the North Purchase in which territory is Peet Hill; Samuel's home was at what is known as the Peet Burying Ground on the west side of the valley at the foot of Peet Hill; the Peet Burying Ground was used as a private cemetery by Peet families for many years. In April 1812 it was purchased by the town from Elnathan Peet. The deed stipulated that it should continue as a burying place. In 1882 it was described as "a strange, wild looking place, but because of its historical association has a charm and marvelousness that should secure for it care and future preservation--at present (1882) as a burying place it has no appearance but that of desolation..." "At the southwest corner stand two rocks, rising to the height of nearly 20 feet. They were once in one rock, but became separated yet remained erect. Between these two upright stones is a rock with two depressions corresponding to the indentures made in the ground when one kneels upon it. Here in this place called the Altar, Samuel Peet prayed many times a day. The legendary story is that Samuel's knees made the depressions in the rock. Hence because of his devotedness in praying and the seclusion and strangeness of the place, he was called the Hermit and these high rocks, the Altar Place." In the shadow of pulpit rock Samuel lies buried, his stone being one of the few in fairly good preservation--the headstone reads, "In memory of Mr. Samuel Peet who departed this life Mar 9 AD 1789 in ye 69th year of his age--My flesh must slumber in the dust till God doth say awake ye just, come from your tomb in quick surprise and in your Saviour's Image rise."; Samuel and most of his relatives were quite active in the Church of England, for many took part in organizing St. Andrew's Church in Marblehead in 1784 (History of New Milford by Orcutt, p 362-3).

108 Lemuel Peet (Lemuel, Joseph, John, John, John) b 1775, Stratford, Ct.; d 1858, Cornwall, Vt.; m December 25, 1800 in Cornwall, Vt. Roxalanna Stebbins, dau of Ebenezer Stebbins (she b 1779; d June 12, 1870; "Mrs. Peet had a duodecimo Bible, and a looking glass, which her mother covered with some pillows and concealed under some logs, upon receiving news of the surrender of Ticonderoga to Burgoyne in 1777, when the settlers were compelled to abandon their farms. The Bible and looking glass remained undisturbed until our return after the restoration of peace." Mrs. Peet also related the story about their return to their home in March when the ground was still covered with a great depth of snow. "Her father had procured a team to convey his family from Asa Blodget's on the creek to his place of abode and they were obliged, as the swamp was impassable, to travel around the north end of it. This was on the Sabbath, and the first inhabitants they met after leaving the Creek were assembled at the house of Dr. Nathan Foot for religious worship. They remained until the close of the service, and as necesity was laid upon them to reach home that day if possible, they proceeded on their journey. As they passed over the hill west of the house and came in sight of it, the snow drifts were so deep as effectually to prevent further progress with the team. By vigorous use of a shovel the men cleared a path so that Mrs. Stebbins was able to make her way to the cabin, which she found dilapidated, cold and cheerless. The roof had fallen in, and it was filled with snow, and the only apartment where they could find shelter was a little bedroom in one corner. Here they kindled a fire, and having procured some meal from the sled blocaded with snow, the mother prepared a johnny cake, which was rendered doubly sweet by fasting and fatigue. With such accommodations was passed the first night, after their return to Cornwall." (History of Cornwall Vermont, p 46-49 [1862]); the son of a blacksmith, Lemuel did not want to follow in his father's footsteps and owing to his father's severity, he ran away from home and came to Middlebury, Vt. where he met Roxanna.

Wit: David Domstock, Jedediah Hubbell, rec Jan. 27, 1795." Kent Land Records (KLR) Vol. III, p 472, 478, 487, 581; Vol. VIII, p 79, 473; Vol. IX, p 223, 303, 474 all refer to a John Peet of Litchfield Co. or John Peet of Kent; it is initially unclear whether these references are to John Jr. (No. 119, son of John) or to his cousin, John III (No. 131, son of Thaddeus) or variously to both. It is apparent that at least one of them had a son John by 1798. Both cousins are referred to as "of Kent", but wherever the discriptor, III, is used, we understand such reference to be to John the III, son of Thaddeus. There is order to be discerned from the morass of cognomens for the Johns of New Milford during the period 1743-1799 by careful comparison of the witnesses for various transactions recorded in the NMLR and KLR. We note that Jedediah Hubbel was witness to the transaction of March 4, 1793 (NMLR, Vol. XX, p 39) for John Jr. in relation to his father's estate and the estates of his deceased brothers. May we not assume that the Jedediah Hubbel who served as witness in KLR of February 9, 1789 (Vol. VIII, p 79) is for the same friend, who is referred to as "John Peet of Kent"? Eliots, Wallers and Datons are witnesses for John III who is also referred to as "of Kent" and "of Litchfield Co." without the descriptor III. Using the witnesses as the distinguishing elements, we may assign KLR Vol. VIII, p 79, 473; and Vol. IX, p 303, 474 to John Jr.; KLR Vol. VII, p 478, 487 and 581 are assigned to John III; KLR Vol. IV, p 459 clearly shows John Jr. as witness of 10 acre sale to his father in September 1771. More problematical are the records refering to John Peet of Litchfield Co. for February 10, 1789 and January 2, 1798 (KLR Vol. VII, p 581 and Vol. IX, p 223 respectively). Is John of Litchfield Co. the Jr. of Kent or the III of Kent? The second of the two records show Barzillai Slosson as one of the witnesses as he is for KLR Vol IX, p 303 and 474 that are clearly identified by the cognomen "John Peet Jr. of Kent"; also John Raymond who was witness with Jedediah Hubbel on behalf of John Jr. is witness to KLR Vol. IX, p 474; we may reasonably conclude that repeated and exclusive reliance of same witnesses will help us to distinguish the transactions of the two Johns. John Peet of Litchfield Co. is only sometimes John Jr., son of John. With respect to KLR Vol. IX, p 223 of January 2, 1798 and Vol. IX, p 303 of May 13, 1799, we see John of Litchfield Co. selling to John Peet Jr. of Kent ½ quarter acre with a blacksmith shop and the same parcel being resold May 13, 1799 by John Jr. of Kent for 10 pounds to John Swift of Kent with a John Peet and Barzillai Slossom as witnesses. I believe this must be interpreted that this John of Litchfield Co., who in records prior to 1789 was referred to as Jr. or Jr. of Kent, was selling property to his own son, now styled John Jr. (remember the elder John Jr.'s father was dead by 1780 and John Jr. would probably drop the style Jr. if he had a son also named John) and that he witnessed his son reselling the land the next year. Is it not reasonable to assume that John Peet Jr. of Kent and of Litchfield Co. had a son John Jr. of Kent? As stated in the chapter on Charles Peet of New Milford and his descendants, we believe John Jr. of Kent (No. 119) is the father of Charles, but we have been unable to find documentary evidence for our conclusion; we have no evidence that Charles had a brother named John; could not the John Jr., son of the original John Jr. (No. 119) be the first name of Charles, who opted to be known by his second given name, in view of the confusion with several Johns in his immediate family? The 1790 Connecticut Census shows a John Piet with two males 16 or older, two males under 16 and six females in Kent Town and a John Peet with one male 16 or older, six males under 16 and two females in Reading Town (Redding).

174 Rev. Josiah Peet (Benjamin, Richard, Benjamin, Benjamin, John) b 1780, Woodbury, Ct.; d January 17, 1852; m 1814 Sarah A. Herrick; at age 22, he decided to enter the ministry; he was said to suffer ill health and to have no funds at the time, but somehow he prepared himself for college and entered Middlebury in 1804. During his college career, he suffered severe attacks of "typhus fever" and influenza from which he miraculously recovered. During his junior year he taught school in Orwell and as a senior was appointed principal of the Castleton Public Seminary. He continued teaching there after his graduation in 1808 from Middlebury for the year 1808-09. Then he took all his belongings and what little money he had and went by horseback to Andover, Mass. where he enrolled in the newly established Andover Theological Seminary. At age 31 after graduating from Andover he preached at Chester, N.H. and at Durham. In 1812 he supplied at the Congregational Church in Shoreham (a touchy situation having evolved over a matter of doctrine, they had split over a previous pastor). In October 1813 he was sent by the Maine Missionary Society to conduct church services for two Sundays in Norridgewock, Maine. At this time there were 43 members of the congregation organized 17 years earlier. The church building was shared with two other denominational groups and the Congregationalists had not had a regular pastor for 12 years. After bad weather had delayed Josiah's return after the second Sunday, some members of the village raised a subscription of 120 dollars to retain his services for half-time for the coming year. In 1814 he was ordained and installed formally at 200 dollars per year (half-time) paid chiefly in produce. The Missionary Society gave him 300 dollars for his supply preaching in some 16 pastorless towns nearby and farther into the wildnerness. He rode this circuit on horseback coming back to Norridgewock every other Sunday. In September he returned to Andover and married Sarah, the adopted daughter of the Seminary's president. Josiah had formerly boarded with the Herricks and certainly came to know his future wife at that time. The next year he built a very large house in Norridgewock at the crossroads now called Peet's Corner (in the Loring Genealogy, 1917 by Charles Henry Pope, John Loring donates part of his Norridgewock farm for the parsonage of Rev. Josiah Peet--p 218); the house cost over $2,000; this house though considerably changed, was still standing in 1973--it is now a two family house. The old church, built in 1794, burned in 1947. For over 38 years Josiah worked long days organizing and nurturing churches in some 39 villages in Maine. He was a thoroughly devout, dedicated man--simple and direct. In 1837 he became a full time pastor. Josiah also interested himself in the schools and helped to found them and served as president of Norridgewock's early Female Academy, a rather radical notion for the 1830's. His journeys to preach during the week took him great distances in all kinds of weather and he suffered much discomfort in traveling and overnight accommodations. For years he arose at 4 am and retired at midnight always allotting time morning and night for prayers. He kept a daily journal throughout his life and it is to his careful records that we still must turn for early marriages, births and deaths to supplement sparse town records. On December 31, 1851 Josiah suffered a stroke as he was preparing his new year's sermon, which was subsequently taken to church and read there. He lingered about two weeks dying Saturday January 17, 1852. It is reported that Josiah disinherited his son William because of his business with blockade running; in 1854 a short history of his life together with some of his sermons was edited by a brother clergyman (Memoir with Sermons by Rev. Josiah Peet by Rev. David Shepley) and published for the benefit of his family.

Anna Beers, dau of Peter and Eunice (Booth) Beers (she b November 30, 1758; d March 28, 1842). Mormon Genealogical Library microfilm indicates a Josiah Russell was born June 27, 1784 in Stratford of Josiah and Anna Peet. This child is possibly a twin brother who did not survive infancy; settled in Otsego Co., N.Y. prior to 1797; were members of the Society of Friends; came to Milford, N.Y. in 1799 from Litchfield, Ct. first and later Dutchess Co., N.Y. and settled (from Stevens MSS on early Milford, N.Y.) on a wide tract of land just west of the Farrington settlement now in the north part of the town of Oneonta; after enduring serious hardship and privation, the family finally came into its own and prospered; bought a farm on Oneonta Creek circa 1806 (History of Oneonta by Campbell); Josiah is remembered mostly for killing black bears--the bears ate fodder he had grown for his horse-he had no barn, but did shoot a bear one night with a slug he himself fashioned; the Peet and Gifford families jointly established a family cemetery on what is today Upper East Street, Oneonta (Oneonta: The Development of a Railroad Town by Eugene D. Milener, 1983, pp. 4, 15, 16, 103); d intestate.

Martha (Denison) Sherman, widow of Rev. Henry Sherman and dau of Amos and Hannah (Williams) Denison (she b March 26, 1796, Stonington, Ct.; d November 13, 1877, Beloit); resided in Newburgh, Ohio; when 17 years old he taught the winter school of 1814 and 1815 in a little building in Broadway; returned east to finish his education, prepared for Yale with a famous clergyman of Lee, Mass. and grad 1823; studied theology under Rev. Dr. Ralph Emerson of Litchfield, Ct.; he began to study theology in the Princeton Seminary, but after a few months returned to Norfolk for further study under Mr. Emerson; he was licensed to preach by the Litchfield North Association on September 27, 1824 and spent the following year in the Auburn Theological Seminary; returned to Newburgh and worked in its small congregational church; was ordained and installed by the Presbytery of Cleveland on February 22, 1826 as pastor of the Collamer Church in Euclid, O.; his pastorate there was a powerful one; he resigned in 1833 in order to organize under the direction of the American Bethel Society efforts for the religious benefit of sailors and boatmen on the Great Lakes; he spent four years in this labor with his headquarters in Buffalo where he edited for part of the time the Buffalo Spectator and served as chaplain of the Bethel Church; and after his marriage in 1826 took up residence there; in October 1837, he removed to Wisconsin and became pioneer preacher of Milwaukee and Green Bay; was installed as pastor of the only Presbyterian Church within the limits of the present state; during his ministry of two years he was partly occupied with exploration for missionary purposes; on October 1, 1839 he took charge of the First Presbyterian Church, Milwaukee, where he labored successfully until June 1, 1841; Stephen was then appointed General Agent of the American Home Missionary Society for the Wisconsin Territory and was eminently successful after seven years of labor; in 1848 he resigned his secretaryship and for the next two years served as agent for Beloit College; he was prostrated by a severe illness, but unexpectedly recovered so as to be able to take the pastoral charge in 1850 of the Congregational Church, Batavia, Ill. where he remained for three years; the crowning work of his life followed whereby he matured a plan for the foundation of the Chicago Theological Seminary and devoted himself to the collection of funds; after an arduous journey to the east on this business he was attacked with chills and fever, resulting in inflammation of his lungs and his death followed in Chicago; one of a group of seven men who founded Beloit College, Wisconsin. 503 George Riley Peet (Burton, Gideon, Gideon, Joseph, John, John, John) b June 30, 1826, Cortland Co., N.Y.; d October 10, 1879, Iowa; m September 1851, Sarah Parsons (she b 1828; d 1901); reported to be a breeder & trainer of race horses; removed to Clarksville, Iowa in 1856 and purchased the hotel property, a small building located where the Central House stood in 1883. Some years afterward he erected the Central House, and with the exception of about three years, he was the landlord of the same until his death, which was the result of a sad accident, on Friday October 10, 1879--on the day mentioned Riley took the 1 pm train, which was somewhat late, for Shellsburg, to attend a stock sale. The engine took water a few rods above the station, and when it stopped for that purpose the rear end of the train rested upon a high bridge. When the train stopped, someone, whether a train hand or some passenger, spoke to Mr. Peet, who was lying down at the time, partly asleep, that that was his station. In his usual quick, impetuous manner he jumped up, grabbed his overcoat and walked out of the car, supposing it to be at the station. He stepped off and fell a distance of twelve feet or more to the ground below, breaking his neck. He was immediately discovered by Conductor Loomis and a brakeman, who went to his assistance, and who claim that he said: "Help me on my feet, boys; I feel faint." and then expired in their arms. A surgeon was called, but he was beyond all human aid. His wife was telegraphed the sad tidings and took the 10:35 train, returning on the 3:45 Saturday, with the remains; Riley was a man of indomitable energy, full of enterprise, public spirited, and a liberal giver, always ready to give time, money and encouragement to public improvements or charitable works; he always worked hard for his town and did much for its advancement. He rendered great assistance to the farming community by bringing in and breeding good stock. He was a man of impetuous disposition and what he did was with all his might; no man ever went to Riley Peet in distress or need that did not receive aid and comfort and many a hungry unfortunate has been fed at his table and sent away rejoicing, without money or price. Riley emigrated with the family to Jones Co., Iowa in 1848 and commenced mercantile life as a clerk; subsequently he went to Marion, Linn Co. where he made the acquaintance of Miss Sarah Parsons and resided in Linn Co. until he came to Clarksville; Mrs. Peet continued to run the Central House after her husband's death. Mr. Peet located in Clayton county, in April 1846 on the county line. He was an ardent Christian and organized the first Sunday School in Lodomillo township. His home was always the stopping place for the early settlers. Nearly all of his old neighbors could say that they spent the first night in the new country at Peet's and that he had been a good friend ever since. Although a consistent, life-long Democrat, the Republican stumpers always made his house their home. So orthodox was his democracy that it is told of him that he was presiding at a Democratic convention when it was proposed to endorse certain nominees of the Greenback party. Mr. Peet arose with dignity and announced 'The present occupant of the chair cannot sit as president if the convention is not purely Democratic'. Hon. S.R. Peet was elected as a Democrat, to the general assembly in the fall of 1859 from Clayton county, and was a member during the passage of the war measures at the extra session, and took an active part in bringing the state up to its exalted position in the Union as a loyal state. He was one of the strong members of the Clayton county bar ..." (History of Clayton County, Iowa, Vol. I, p 223-4).

1309 David S. Peet (Joel, Bassett, Josiah, Josiah, Thomas, Benjamin, Benjamin, John) b April 12, 1851, Laurens, Otsego Co., N.Y.; a merchant of Laurens; received a fair education in the district school, and at the age of 15 left home, and became a clerk in a factory store, remaining there two years, keeping the books of both the Clintonville and Otsego Mills; these mills were twelve miles apart, and David spent a portion of his time at each mill, riding the distance between the two places at night once or twice a week. Because the mills failed he lost more than $300. that he had earned. He was next employed at the railroad depot at Mt. Upton, Chenango Co. Though he was not an agent, he nevertheless had the responsibility of the entire business. For two years he sold tickets and did telegraphing. He then moved to Laurens and purchased the mercantile business of H.N. Drew, dry goods and drugs. David settled in that trade, though the dry goods gave way to hardware in 1882 and since then he maintained both hardware and drug stores. As part of his business he also bought and shipped butter to New York City, Brooklyn, Albany, Utica, Scranton, Pittstown, Wilkes-Barre, trading through agents and merchants in various cities. On June 9, 1871, David was married to Jennie S. Timewell, of Mt. Upton, daughter of Edward Timewell. They began their married life in Laurens. David was justice of peace for three years; in politics he was republican and in religious matters his views were broad, as he subscribed to no creed. He was a master Mason and was secretary and treasurer of his lodge. By 1892 total transactions in David's business were between 75 and 150 thousand dollars. In 1883 he bought another store and added another building 30 by 50 feet, the upper story being used by the Masons as a lodge. The store is 26 feet wide and 85 feet deep; in 1877 he installed a telegraph office and was his own operator; it was through his efforts that the telegraph line was brought to Laurens, 9 miles from Oneonta. By 1893 he employed two tinners and the manufacture of butter pails had become an integral part of his business. (Biographical Review, Otsego Co., N.Y. , 1893)

1332 Charles Harry Peet (Edwin, Isaac, Josiah, Josiah, Thomas, Benjamin, Benjamin, John) b July 16, 1868, Wellington, Ohio; d December 4, 1953, Binghamton, N.Y.; m May 31, 1894, Binghamton, N.Y. Josephine Louise Georgia, dau of Levi and Ella (Roe) Georgia (she b October 19, 1870, Treadwell, N.Y.; d April 1, 1927, Binghamton); itinerant salesman, businessman; Charles was a pioneer businessman in Endicott, N.Y.; he was a former salesman with the Pittsburgh Lamp

Brass & Glass Co.; he was living in Binghamton when he decided to build a four-story building and operate a dry goods store in 1904. The store was the tallest building in Washington Avenue at the time and was built before Endicott was incorporated as a village. Real estate agents tried to sell him property on McKinley Avenue, pointing out that the broad throughfare was evidence that McKinley was to be the focal point of the business district. Charles decided instead to build on Washington Avenue at the north-west intersection of Monroe Street. His choice turned out to be the right one. Moreover, the property he selected is still on the "right side" of the street and at the most important corner. McKinley Avenue is zoned residential. Charles' dry good store was one of the first business establishments in the village and prospered in its early days. The three floors above the store were always rented. He rented the store to a restauranteur before selling the store before the Great Depression. After selling the store, Charles maintained an office upstairs for his wholesale business. All the children participated in someway with Charles' dry good business. Mabel did typing, albeit by the hunt and peck method; Dorothy did typing and billing after high school classes during the 1926-27 period; both Edwin and Warren worked for their father; Warren made deliveries in a truck owned by Charles; even Charles' wife, Lou, occasionally accompanied her husband in later years on overnight sales trips. At the time of Charles' death the building housed the Economy Drug Store and in 1980 had been refitted with a new facade for the Delaware County Federal Savings Bank, the third and fourth stories having been removed because of structural weaknesses. After his wife died in April 1927, Charles returned to selling on the road, visiting mainly hardware stores in upstate New York with his kitchen utensil wares. He also owned homes in Binghamton which he rented. Charles was always the impeccable dresser. Even on the hottest summer day he sported a full three piece suit. He was also a teetotaler and in his later years at Mozart St., Binghamton he would often walk the one-half block to 42 Schubert Street where he would sit on the porch with Grandpa Shea (James Shea Sr., father of James Jr., husband of Dorothy Peet Shea) enjoying extended conversations. After selling the home at 1504 Broad Street (torn down in the 1970's) in the 1930's, Charles and his youngest son lived a short while at 87 Oak Street before purchasing the home at 27 Mozart Street. This he kept until 1950 (the house was still occupied as of 1980 by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Thornton, who purchased it in 1950) when he was first institutionalized in a small nursing home on Riverside Drive. He was later moved to the Campbell Nursing Home where he died Friday at 7:40 pm December 4, 1953. Although Charles was known to suffer from throat cancer, cause of death was ascribed to arterioschlerosis. The funeral was handled by the Hopler-Georgia Funeral Home at 483 Chenango Street, Binghamton. The funeral service was conducted at 2:00 pm Monday December 7, 1953 by the Rev. Bruce Larson, assistant pastor of the West Presbyterian Church on Main St. Interment followed immediately in Floral Park Cemetery next to his wife and just behind his parents. Charles' will of July 15, 1946 is recorded at Broome Co. Surrogate Court, Book

119, p 29; in it he bequeaths five hundred dollars to his sister-in-law Miss Mary Georgia, household furniture and personal property to his son Charles H. Jr., five hundred dollars each to the West Presbyterian Church and purchase of grave markers for him and his wife and residue to be divided equally among his surviving children; Harold F. Johnson was named executor; final judicial settlement (probation) was made December 28, 1954 (Book 56, p 629)

Joint Stockland Bank; originator of fruit spraying services to farmers; a long while ago some one told the story of a tourist in 1938, who had trouble with his car near Rochester, N.Y. one dark night. He left the car by the roadside, while he went to find help. He saw, not far away, a large old fashioned white house with half a dozen outbuildings. As he came closer there was a sudden blinding light, then complete darkness. Disturbed by this, he crept up to a low half underground building, a dim light in the window. Looking in he saw two masked and goggled men, standing over a pair of large glass tubes, each about three feet tall, which gave off peculiar blue flames. He heard one of the men say, "Okay, Sam, give her a little more death ray." Upon hearing that the tourist turned around and left the place in a hurry. Sometime later, seeing a highway patrolman, he described the scene he had watched. The Patrolman, laughing heartily, said "Sorry you were frightened; that's Nelson Peet's electrified farm. The experiments they are doing there has given us a lot of excitement." Nelson Peet was an 11th generation farmer; his farm of 100 acres in tillage, 50 in pasture, 18 in woodland, 32 in orchards was chosen by engineers who had consulted the N.Y. State College of Agriculture faculty at Cornell, as an ideal place to investigate why the average wired farm applies electric energy only to the little tasks instead of harnessing it to the big farm jobs. Having started in August 1938, in December Mr. and Mrs. Peet found that they could save 200 hours a year and labor with the new electrice water heater and sterilizer in the milk house and many other labor saving devices, which are now commonplace on many farms; Nelson's farm was situated on Lake Road on the shore of Lake Ontario, with 900 feet of lake frontage; the Peet family moved from Webster in the latter part of 1933, 30 miles from Rochester; the house was over 100 years old by 1933.

Descendants of Charles Peet of New Milford, Connecticut 1774 – 1846

"Great families of yesterday we show, and lords whose parents were the Lord knows who."
Daniel Defoe - The True-Born Englishman, I

Charles Peet of New Milford (1774-1846) and his descendants are descendants of John Peet of Stratford, Connecticut. They are presented in this separate chapter only because of the lack of documentary evidence linking Charles to his parents. Non-documentary evidence, however, in the form of circumstance and family oral tradition is conclusive enough to count Charles and his heirs among the Peets of the Stratford line.

Church, probate, census, military, land and other records have been thoroughly searched time and time again for New Milford, surrounding towns, Litchfield County and Connecticut, in New Milford and at the State Library in Hartford with no clue to Charles' parentage. We do know that in 1774 and for several decades afterwards, all Peets living in and around New Milford were descendants of John of Stratford and that there were only a few Peets not related to the Stratford/New Milford Peets that were in this country before 1800 (e.g. Samuel Peete of North Carolina). Time and place require us to number Charles among the Stratford line as all other Peets in New Milford (except, of course, his brother, Dennis, and his sister, Clarissa) can be accounted for and properly linked.

By process of elimination there are two excellent candidates for Charles' parents. They were first cousins to one another and both were named John. There was John Peet (No. 119 in the main text), son of John Peet (1725-1780), born in 1748, called John Jr. who married January 26, 1768 Phoebe Wakelee in the New Milford Congregational Church. His cousin, John (No. 131 in the main text), born 1746, son of Thaddeus Peet (b 1727) and called John III, married September 30, 1770 Deborah Leach in Washington, Ct., just east of New Milford. The best genealogists and experts in that section of Connecticut have been unable to uncover any record of children born to either of them. Probate records of the father John 1725-1780 and another son, David (1749-1790), each mention the son John Jr., but no other reference that would help; no probate record of Thaddeus can be found. There are numerous land records showing John Peet as grantor or grantee under various names (John Jr.; John III; John of Kent; John of Litchfield; John of New Milford, etc.), but not a single term was used to help prove their children. Even their wives were not mentioned, which is unusual.

Of the two probable contenders for Charles' parentage, the case for John who married Phoebe Wakelee is by far the stronger. Family oral tradition, especially among Charles' grandchildren is unanimous in recalling John and Phoebe as the parents of Charles. Among the grandchildren of Charles, are one Phoebe (possibly named after Phoebe Wakelee) and one Clarissa (probably named after Charles' sister). There are no Deborahs among the descendants of Charles within the first three generations after Charles.

Major sources of published information for several individuals in the third and fourth generations are Portrait and Biographical Album of Gratiot Co., Michigan (1884) and Gratiot County, Michigan: Historical, Biographical, Statistical (1913) which are referenced hereafter as Portrait and Gratiot Co. respectively.

For contributions in the compilation of the Charles Peet line, special thanks are due Georgiana Peet Miller of Ithaca, Michigan who marshaled much information from the following:

(Rising) Sage; "K.P. Peet acquired a good common school education, finishing with a year's course at the Savannah, Ohio, Academy."; enlisted at Wooster, Ohio in Company I of First Ohio Light Artillery and served until his honorable discharge at Chattanooga, Tennessee on June 13, 1865; "Returning to Rochester, O., he embarked in the business of dairying and stock-raising, in company with his brother, Rolla. Selling out, they removed in the spring of 1867 to Kent County, Michigan where, in Bowne Twp, K.P. bought an 84-acre farm. A year later he removed to Lowell Township in the same county, where he bought a farm of 140 acres. Later he removed to Jamestown, Ottawa County, where he resided nearly three years, when, owing to an exchange of property, he came into possession of 320 acres on section 31, Lafayette Township, this county, removing to his new location in the spring of 1876. While a resident of Kent County, Mr. Peet taught several terms of school; also teaching several terms in Gratiot Co. Mr. Peet's new home in Lafayette was unimproved and covered with timber, consequently the work of clearing and otherwise improving his land and erecting farm buildings occupied his time and attention largely. In company with his brother Rolla, he made a specialty of raising Holstein cattle, and breeding fine blooded horses. They imported the first registered Holsteins ever owned in the county. While a resident of Lafayette, Mr. Peet was elected to various township offices--supervisor two yrs (1881-1882), clerk one year (1880), superintendent of schools two years, etc. In the fall of 1882 he was elected sheriff of the county on the Fusion (Democrat and Greenback) ticket, receiving 187 majority. In November 1884, he was re-elected sheriff by a majority of over 500. His administration of the important office was very satisfactory to his constituents. In 1883 Mr. Peet formed a business partnership at Ithaca with D.C. Johnson to carry on the livery business. For their use in that business they erected the livery barn on Pine River Street, south, now owned and utilized for the same business by Charles Kernen. In 1891 Mr. Peet was appointed hallmaster at the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia, which position he held for more than two years, resigning to accept a position as detective on John Bonfield's staff at Chicago during the World's Columbian Exposition. He resigned on account of sickness. Afterward for a period of about three years, he worked in a similar capacity for the Ann Arbor Railroad."; member of all the Masonic and I.O.O.F. lodges in Ithaca; charter member of Ithaca Commandery No.40, K.T., also of Myrtle Chapter No. 56, O.E.S. of which he was past worthy patron; past major of the Patriarchs Militant, the highest branch of Odd Fellowship; in November 1913, he removed his family to the Wm. Sickels farm, near Sickels, a valuable farm purchased by C D Peet. (Gratiot Co. p 796-98 and Portrait, p 541-2)

Pleasant, Michigan and in 1919 moved to Pontiac where they owned a hotel; after Mr. Lee's death, Retta moved to Ann Arbor where she owned a student rooming house and a restaurant; later she removed to North Star to care for her aging parents and again removed in 1938 to Ithaca; past Noble Grand of the Rebekah Lodge; former Master of Liberty Grange; member of Pythian Sisters and Eastern Star; the following is a verbatim account of Retta's memoirs of her family and early years taken from two separate accounts--the second in parentheses is interpolated in chronological sequence:

"This is the life history of Kosciusko P. Peet and Lydia M. Sage, both born in Ohio, Lorain Co. They met at Savannah, Ohio where they were attending the academy. Kosko's sister, Luana, was here at school also and she and Lydia roomed together. This is the way she came to know Kosko and at the age of 17 married him at Adrian, Michigan April 8, 1864. Grandfather Peet (John), Kosko's father, went with them to Adrian. They first went to housekeeping in Rochester Township, Lorain County and lived here until they had two children, Rolla and Retta. Kosko enlisted in the army before Rolla was born and remained there until Rolla was ten months old. They lived with Kosko's brother, Lon, and family and made cheese, until they all decided to go to Michigan.

John Peet and several of his daughters and their families had already gone to Michigan. Kosko and Lon built covered wagons and went overland to Michigan by wagon train. There must have been three wagons. I have heard my father say they had eleven horses - that would be three span and five following loose. They always had to watch the horses running loose. Uncle Lon's family must have had two wagons, for there were his wife, Mary, himself, and at least four children. Kosko had two children, Rolla, two years old, and Retta, three months.

Since writing the above Dell Peet was here and he said the train from Ohio consisted of a horse and buggy, driven by Grandfather Peet, then a covered wagon belonging to Uncle Frank and his family, and then Uncle Lon's wagon and his family, then my father's wagon and his family, then another wagon with Frank and Dell and Joe Lawrence. They had two colts leading behind; sometimes the boys Joe and Dell would ride the colts and Uncle Lon traded his colts on the way for one large horse.

They started in March and were three weeks coming. They came first to Aunt Deda's in Kent County and also to Aunt Jane Hull's who lived in Alaska. Grandfather Peet lived with Aunt Helen in Browne Township. Lon and Kosko each bought a farm near, one in Caledonia Township and one in Lowell Township. This county was very hilly and sandy and they raised mostly wheat and fruit. They each had large peach orchards and raised and sold bushels of peaches. The roads through this part of the country were very sandy. Nearby were huckleberry marshes and also cranberry. There was a large cranberry bog on my father's farm and mother picked a good many bushels for market. She often saw and killed rattlesnakes. My father taught school in the districts where we lived. Susie was born on this farm, called the Spitzer place. Farming was tedious here for it was so sandy and hilly. Father and Uncle Lon raised fancy horses and here began to breed race horses. Becoming tired of this county, they decided to go elsewhere in Michigan. Kosko had moved to Jamestown, Ottawa County, where his sister Lois Sage lived. We lived there and father taught the school at Jamestown. In 1873 D was born at Jamestown. Father taught in a district school and when D was about seven years old we came to Caledonia Township and father taught here.

That year Uncle Lon had been up in Gratiot County looking for better land. He and father traded their farms in Kent County to Arthur Moss for two half sections of wild land in Gratiot. Uncle Lon and father came to Gratiot in 1876 and settled on sections 31 and 32 of Lafayette Township, six miles east of Ithaca. There wasn't a stick of timber cut on this land and no road past the land.

That winter father taught at Centerville and we lived there. He thought he could cut more trees in the school room than he could with an ax. Uncle Lon and his family lived in the house built for my father and in March of 1876 we moved to Gratiot into the woods. (In March 1876 my father moved with his family to Lafayette twp., Gratiot Co., Mich., settling on Sec. 32 of that twp. He had come the preceding November to Gratiot and built a log house on the place. This house was built 70 rds. from the main road, which was located 6 mi. east of Ithaca. Before we came to Gratiot his brother Rolla A. Peet had moved his family from Kent Co. to Gratiot and they were occupying the log house when we came there. My uncle's family consisted of himself and wife and six children, and my father's family of himself and my mother and four children. Both families lived in this one house until another log house could be erected one mile east on Sec. 33 of this twp. for my uncle and his family, which was done soon. The log house was later torn down and a frame upright was built, which is the upright of the tenant house on the Clawson farm 6 mi. east of Ithaca). Father had hired fifteen acres of wood chopped off that winter and the first summer we lived there mother and we children burned the brush and in the fall father had a logging bee to clear the land. The timber was very heavy, mostly oak, elm and maple, all hardwood. The oak was cut and sold for ship timber and the elm was sent to the stave mills to be cut. It was cut on the farm into bolts which were sold to the mills. (The remaining timber was felled and piled into heaps and burned to clear the land for cultivation).

The first year we lived here there were no wells and the water we used was taken from holes where trees had upturned. The water came into these and poison ivy and other plants grew in it. This, of course, poisoned us and we were all sick with a malarial fever. Dr. Monfort came out from Ithaca and treated us and told what caused the disease. Then they dug wells and we were not sick any more. The next summer Uncle Lon built a house on the mile east of us - Section 32. Here his wife, Aunt Mary, passed away in 1881. This was the year that James was born. Nelt Peet had built a house across the corner from our place. He had bought some land in Hamilton Township. The day James was born (My Aunt Mary, uncle R.A.'s wife, spent the day with my mother, but had gone home before James was born. The attending physician was I.N. Monfort of Ithaca. This was the last visit Aunt Mary ever made to our house as she passed away in September of that year) they were having a logging bee at Nelt's and I think they had a dance at night. This was quite customary at that time. (In the evening of that day a dance was held across the street, which was customary when a logging bee was held. To this bee came all the men of the neighborhood and their wives with ox-teams to haul the logs together. This is the way the land was cleared. On my father's farm many of these log heaps were fired and burned by my mother with the aid of us children. My father had a large barn erected on the place and when this was built we had a barn-raising and a dance in the evening. As I remember, the dance was in a bowery which was erected for that purpose. The bowery was made by laying rough boards down for a floor and then covering it over with twigs and brush from green trees. These bowery dances were often held on the 4th of July and at the fair).

(Our house was two miles from school and there was no road except to go through the woods all the way unless we went west of our house 70 rods and then north a mile and east one mile to get to the school house. The first day we went to school my father and uncle went with us through the woods, blazing the trees so we could find our way home through the woods. We nearly always went by that route as it was shorter. In the spring the water was deep and we had to jump from log to log to keep from getting wet. One morning I fell off a log and went into the water and was soaked from head to foot. My brother made me return home, so that I did not attend school that day, which nearly broke my heart. In about a year the road was cleared out and a ditch was dug along the roadside and the road was graded so it was passable. During the winters, my father taught school and this left my mother alone at the farm. In the summers my father often went to Ohio and left mother and us children alone to do the chores and burn the brush heaps.)

Father did't care much for farming so he went into politics. The first time he was nominated for County Clerk but was defeated. At the end of the two years he was nominated for sheriff and was elected and we moved to Ithaca in 1883, between Christmas and New Years. Jay Raymond was born on the farm in 1877, so the family consisted of father and mother and six children when we moved into the jail. (After we moved to Ithaca my brother Rolla and I attended the high school which was taught by H.R. Pattengill at that time. Mr. Pattengill was an excellent teacher, but, as I remember the school at that time, it was ungraded and most of the time was spent on the subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic...much of the time being spent in drilling on these subjects. The old school house burned and the present school house or at least the first of it, was erected and a high school was formed. Mr. Pattengill soon left to go to Lansing and became editor of the Michigan School Moderator. At this time J.N. McCall was hired to take charge of the school and he made it into a modern high school). We lived there four years and then moved to the Church house, where Jay Raymond and Rolla passed away in 1888. We continued to live in Ithaca, moving from one home to another until about 1912, when father moved with D's folks to the Sickels farm. From here he moved to the Daggett farm in Washington Township and then in 1916 moved to North Star village. The house burned there in 1927 and they moved uptown and then to the Pankhurst home in 1929 where father and mother passed away in 1932.

In 1900 father, I, D and James went to Oklahoma, but we did not get any land. We went there to a land drawing of the Kiowa Indians."

Retta's obituary in the Gratiot Co. Herald, November 20, 1941 stated: "Possessed of a brilliant mind and keen intellect she made an excellent teacher. Her sympathetic understanding and unfailing encouragement helped many a boy and girl to find their place in life. In her teaching years her home was always open those pupils needing guidance in their work. Many men of this community recall countless evenings when, as boys, she helped them with their problems. To those who knew her she was a constant inspiration and stimulation. Her influence will long be felt."

162 Donna Peet (Julian, Joseph, Charles, ?) bc 1887; d March 7, 1910, Gratiot Co.; m Wm. Davison (he d March 7, 1910); following is report of the Davison-Peet double murder and suicide from Gratiot Co. p 1331-32: "A double murder and suicide--a triple butchery-which shocked the people of Gratiot County beyond the power of expression, occured in Hamilton Township, March 7, 1910, in the home of Julius (sic) Peet, three miles east of Sickels. Mr. Peet, his two young daughters, Lillian and Lena, and their brother, Glen, constituted the family, and living with them was William Davison, his wife, who was another daughter of Mr. Peet, and their little child, nine months old. It was said that the parties had frequent disagreements, many quarrels occurring between them; that Mr. Peet was of a quiet, peaceable nature, but that Davison was inclined to be quarrelsome. In the afternoon of the day mentioned the three children of Mr. Peet were away at a neighbor's and for that reason there is no positive knowledge as to what led up to the tragedy on that afternoon, which was only discovered when the two young daughters came home along about four o'clock. The dead bodies of Davison and his wife and Mr. Peet was the sight with which they were confronted when they entered the house. The girls ran screaming from the house, giving the alarm to the neighbors who hastened to the scene. Mr. Peet was found sitting dead in his chair, holding a newspaper in his hands, and with the back of his head crushed in as by a blow with the but of a gun or some other equally heavy weapon. On the floor by the cook stove in a pool of blood lay Mrs. Davison quite dead. A horrible gash in her throat, taken in connection with the blood on the floor, formed conclusive evidence of the cause and manner of her death. Further investigation revealed the dead body of Davison lying on the floor in the adjoining bedroom with his head blown to pieces by the discharge of a gun which lay by his side. The stock of the gun was broken, which circumstance seemed to point to the conclusion that Davison had used the butt of the gun to murder his father-in-law, Mr. Peet. In its cradle sleeping peacefully was the babe, unharmed. The presumption was that a quarrel had taken place and that Davison in a rage had seized the gun and struck his father-in-law a death-blow; then, with a razor and after a terrific struggle had cut his wife's throat. The appearance of the rooms indicated a fierce and prolonged struggle. After this fiendish double murder Davison evidently concluded that the best thing he could do for himself and for the world would be to end his own life. So taking the gun and placing the muzzle in his mouth, he kicked the trigger and ushered himself into eternity; the last act in this frightful drama, so far as this earth is concerned. But what lamentable ending of the lives of three intelligent human beings, all of one family and all happening within the space of only a few minutes. And what a heart-breaking memory for those left behind."

Ellensburg and he left for the Army Officer Training School as a second lieutenant at Hampton Roads, Virginia; as his unit was loading aboard ship for France, news of the armistice came through and he was discharged; G.F. finished his legal education and worked a short while as a claims examiner for the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C.; he subsequently resigned and removed to Seattle, Washinton to open his own law office; since no clients came in, he took a position with the American Oriental Banking Corporation of Shanghai whose owner was in Seattle to recruit a lawyer; G.F. moved his wife and infant son in December 1926 to Shanghai, China to the consternation of his sisters; China was in turmoil as Chiang Kai-Shek's armies were moving northward from Canton; Shanghai's International Settlement and French Concession were crowded with foreign refugees from the interior and there was no place for G.F.'s family to stay; the Y.M.C.A.'s secretary took them into his house for six months before the family was able to find an apartment; after a year, G.F. left the bank to work as corporate counsel for American Asiatic Indemnities, a small Shanghai insurance agency which eventually became the American International Group, Inc., a Fortune 100 company listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange (in those days the company operated only China and southeast Asia with a couple of small offices in New York and San Francisco); Jeff (as he was known to his intimates-a corruption of G.F.) worked long hours, but always retained his sense of humour and was an excellent husband and father; as the company prospered the family situated in nicer housing, acquired a car and no longer commuted with a bicycle; eventually the family had four servants--two inside the house, a chauffeur and a rickshaw puller; the Japanese invaded Shanghai in 1932, sparing the International Settlement and French Concession, and again in 1937, after which the Japanese occupied the east coast of China; concerned by the militarism of the Japanese, Jeff managed to secure a transfer to the New York office in 1940, narrowly missing imprisonment by the Japanese after the attack on Pearl Harbor; his wife, Myra, died of cancer in 1945; Jeff was a home-oriented person and lived in an apartment on Gramercy Park with a Chinese servant who had emigrated from Shanghai with the family; in 1947 Jeff married his high school girl friend, Rosella Hamilton Woodward (she d 1948), a widow for over twenty years; Jeff then married May 23, 1949 Rosella's best friend and long-time companion, Esther Bientang (she in 1986 resides in nursing home in Spokane, Washington), an accomplished pianist--they lived first in New York and then moved to Montclair, N.J. where they lived until his retirement in 1959, when they removed to McAllen, Texas.

465 George Frederick (Fred) Richardson (George Richardson, Flora Sage, Lois, John, Charles, ?) b December 29, 1924, Seattle, Washington; m October 1, 1950 Walla Walla, Washington Mary Elizabeth Harvey (she b February 10, 1929, Walla Walla); Fred writes, "my earliest memories are of Shanghai, where I lived until we moved to New York at the age of 15. There in N.Y. I finished high school, all but the last semester. I entered Oberlin College in February 1943 having enlisted in the Navy Officers Training Program just before in December--it had a unit at Oberlin. I studied five semesters at Oberlin, four of them in uniform, then went to Cornell Midshipmans School and became an ensign and was assigned to a destroyer in the Atlantic. After my discharge in 1946, I entered Columbia Law School, having been influenced by my father's enthusiasm for the law, and was graduated in 1949 and admitted to the New York Bar and practiced at the Legal Aid Society for a year. But I found I didn't care for it, so I applied for work at the American International Indemnities and was accepted as a management trainee. Meanwhile my stepmother, Esther, had invited a former piano student, Mary Harvey, to dinner. Mary and I married in Walla Walla that fall. I was transferred to the company's Havana office in 1953 and our son George was born there in 1954. Later that year we were transferred to Bermuda and from Bermuda to Caracas where Janice was born in 1955; we were in Caracas at the time of the revolution that overthrew the dictator Perez Jimenez. Then we were transferred to New York in 1959, while Mary went ahead to Walla Walla, where Darrell was born. Then it was to Guatemala in 1965, where I managed a regional office whose territory was Central America and the west coast of South America. We were then transferred back to New York in 1969, where I went to night school to get a doctorate in business administration. In 1979 I retired and moved to Spokane, Washington, where I taught business administration until 1985 at Gonzaga University. Now I am writing a college textbook on international business."

Descendants
Dr. Samuel Peete of North Carolina

According to members of one scion of this family, the current spelling "Peete" evolved over several decades, having been originally Peat and later Peet, before the final "e" was added. There is no evidence of Dr. Samuel Peete's origin; he could have emigrated directly from England to North Carolina/Virginia or perhaps be a descendant of one of the Peets from Stratford. A check of the Samuels among John Peet of Stratford's descendants born between 1680 and 1740 turns up no stray Samuels. If Samuel Peete is descendant of John of Stratford, there is probably at least one generation missing before him to link Samuel with John.

1 Dr. Samuel Peete d between August and December 1780; of North Carolina; is first located as buying land in Bertie Co., N.C. in 1737, which is probably part of the county that became part of the newly formed Northampton Co. Samuel is found buying and selling land in Northampton in 1742. He is spoken of as "Samuel Peete, Doctor of Physick, from Surry County, Va." He buys freely of land and is found to own land in Southampton, Brunswick and Sussex Counties of Virginia in addition to his holdings in North Carolina. From his will one can ascertain that he died between August and December of 1780 and his wife's name is Mary.

Unconnected Peet Data

"These sought their register among those that were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found."
Nehemiah 7: 64

APPENDIX I

UNCONNECTED PEET DATA

This listing of unconnected Peets is comprised of three categories--those who have not been connected conclusively as descendants of John Peet of Stratford because of insufficient data, those for whom there is evidence that they do not belong in the main body of this work, and those who are not outlined in the other appendices.

Because several of the descendants of John Peet of Stratford have at one time or another spelled the surname variously (Peet, Peat, Peatt, Peete, Peets, Piatt) during an era when orthography was not uniform, individuals with such variant spellings have been more liberally included in this list.
